For Immediate Release:
Graham-Field Receives ISO 13485:2003 Certification

March 20, 2007 • Atlanta, GA:

Graham-Field Health Products is proud to announce that its Rhode Island manufacturing facility has received ISO 13485:2003 certification. ISO 13485:2003, the most up-to-date ISO standard, is a comprehensive management system for the design and manufacture of medical devices. The Rhode Island manufacturing facility and Graham-Field's corporate management system have been independently audited to assure conformance to ISO 13485:2003's stringent requirements; as well, Graham-Field has mandated periodic management and quality system review to assure continued conformance. The primary manufactured products of Graham-Field's Rhode Island facility include Grafc® Silver Nitrate Applicators and Medicopaste Bandage, manufactured by Graham-Field since 1947.

The International Organization for Standardization (ISO) is a network of the national standards institutes of 157 countries. While compliance with ISO standards is voluntary, they are widely accepted by both public and private sectors worldwide. This certification allows Graham-Field to better compete in today's global economy.
